Objective

To integrate analytical expertise in finance with creative pursuits, continuously expanding knowledge and skill sets in both fields. As a dedicated B. Com (Honours) student focused on investments, mergers, and hedge funds, with a strong interest in financial markets, I aim to apply academic knowledge to contribute meaningfully to the finance industry. Additionally, I seek to leverage my blogging and digital art skills, sharing insights on finance and personal development while exploring visual storytelling and branding. Committed to bridging analytical and creative abilities to achieve professional growth.
