Objective

I'm a purpose-driven and empathetic student with a strong passion for social impact, child rights, and grassroots advocacy. My aim through the CRY internship is to contribute to sustainable and meaningful change while immersing myself in real-world experiences that nurture leadership and compassion. I believe in the power of youth voices and want to be part of communities that work tirelessly to uplift others.

Education

Currently in Grade XII (Humanities) at Billabong High International School, Noida. Having been at Billabong since 2012, I've grown as a student leader, athlete, and changemaker. I've consistently maintained strong academic performance while actively contributing to the school's sports, research, and student council initiatives.

Internships & ExperienceCRY – Child Rights and You | Online Intern (2024)

Researched key issues around child rights, created awareness campaigns, and collaborated on digital outreach projects.

Muskurahat Foundation | Volunteer

Engaged in community-building activities focused on underprivileged children and women. Worked on outreach and impact storytelling.

Project Aspasia | Research Intern

Researched gender rights, inclusive education, and social equity. Supported data compilation and advocacy-oriented reporting.

Dublieu | Marketing Intern

Curated content for digital campaigns, managed outreach on social media, and engaged with youth audiences to increase visibility.

PersonaLab | Writing & Research Intern

Wrote content around youth identity, education, and social well-being. Supported small-scale research and creative direction.

LegalLadder | Content Creator

Created accessible and youth-friendly legal content, simplifying key laws and judicial systems to raise awareness.

GSMUN (Global Serenity MUN) | Secretariat – Researcher

Part of the organizing core team for GSMUN 2024. Developed agendas, designed committees, and led strategy meetings with emphasis on diplomatic relationships and global cooperation.

Leadership & Activities

As Vice Sports Head, I've taken pride in building enthusiasm for athletics and wellness within my school. I've helped lead school events like the Grade 12 farewell, many inter-house and inter-school events, and coordinated multiple house activities. Representing Uttar Pradesh in table tennis has taught me the value of discipline and resilience — I secured 3rd place in Clusters XIX, both individually and in the team category.

I'm also deeply engaged in MUNs and debating circuits, where I get to blend research, negotiation, and creative policy thinking — a space where I truly come alive.

Skills

Interests

I'm endlessly curious about the intersection of youth, policy, and social change. I love diving into research, exploring complex social issues, and writing about topics that matter. My passion for table tennis grounds me with discipline, while MUNs and debates push me to think critically and communicate powerfully. I believe in using my voice and actions to drive change — big or small — and that's what fuels me every day.
