

ABOUT ME

Motivated and creative second-year B.Sc. Data Science and Analytics student at R.A. Podar College of Commerce and Economics. With a strong foundation in data handling and visualization, I'm proficient in Excel for organizing and analyzing data, and Canva for creating visually appealing content. My leadership and event experience across college fests, combined with a passion for photography and creativity, allows me to approach tasks with both structure and innovation. I'm eager to contribute to meaningful social and educational projects.
