SUMMARY

Compassionate social work trainee who seeks a master's in social work at the Delhi School of Social Work through their experience in urban grassroots settings. The hands-on experience at CCAW has provided me with essential skills regarding child development and health education hygiene and community engagement methods. The ability to create and organize remedial courses, combined with awareness programs, along with creative interventions focused on dropout prevention and child prosperity. A strong commitment exists for participatory approaches and social justice, which drives me to serve vulnerable populations using ethical fieldwork methods that create meaningful impacts. Proficient in overseeing documentation and on-ground projects, backed by excellent tech, leadership, and communication abilities.
