About Me

Shriya Saha is currently pursuing her BBA in BML Munjal University, where she also serves as the Managing Editor for her college magazine and the CR of her batch. With a strong interest in communication, content writing, and digital marketing, Shriya has a good experience organizing events and leading communication tasks. She is confident in public speaking, debating, and giving presentations. With a strong grasp of the English vocabulary, she enjoys writing and expressing ideas clearly, either through poems or storytelling. She also did an internship with the Red Cross Society, where she helped organize eye operation and blood donation camps. Shriya is passionate about learning about the business world, exploring different cultures and understanding the psychology behind marketing antics.
