PROFILE

As a dedicated first-year B.Sc LLB student at the National Forensic Sciences University (NFSU), I am deeply committed to advancing child rights and social justice. Having previously interned with the National Commission for Protection of Child Rights (NCPCR) in the Child Labour Division, I gained valuable insights into child welfare laws, field-based advocacy and policy implementation. I am now seeking an opportunity to contribute to CRY (Child Rights and You) to further this passion. I am eager to support CRY's initiatives through legal research, rights-based advocacy, and on-ground engagement, while continuing to grow both professionally and personally in the field of child rights.
