

Summary

With a understanding of the unique needs of students, I leverage my skills in case history taking, clinical observation, and psychological assessments to support their development. My communication and interpersonal abilities help me build strong relationships with students, parents, and colleagues, ensuring a collaborative and supportive learning environment. Empathy and compassion are central to my approach, allowing me to connect with students and provide the care they need. My specialization in school psychology gives me valuable insight into child development and learning. Additionally, I am an attentive listener and a patient leader, focused on creating a nurturing, inclusive classroom where students feel valued and supported.

Experience

Antara Psychiatric Hospital
Intern
Baruipur
I had the opportunity to intern for five days at Antara Psychiatric Hospital, where I gained valuable hands-on experience in case history taking and conducting mental status examinations. This internship also provided me with the unique chance to closely observe patients and understand their conditions in a real-world clinical setting.

Indian Institute of Psychometry
Intern
Baranagar, West Bengal
During my time at the Indian Institute of Psychometry in Baranagar, I had the opportunity to gain hands-on experience with diverse clients, enhancing my understanding of psychological assessments and therapeutic approaches.
Additionally, I visited Bikashayan School for children with special needs, where I observed and engaged with the students, learning about their unique challenges and the specialized interventions designed for them. The experience was truly enriching and deepened my passion for working in the field of psychology and special education.
