

KONKONA KAR

1st Year Undergraduate

PROFILE

I am an avid reader and enthusiastic writer. Belonging to a Defence background, I have grown up travelling the length and breadth of the country. My only worldly belonging is my backpack full of stories and an insatiable thirst for exploring beyond the known horizon. I have interacted with people from myriad shades of backgrounds, having attended nearly 10 different educational institutions across the country. I now look forward to enhancing my repertoire in the professional domain.
