RADHIKA SHARMA

PROFILE

I am a passionate and driven journalism student with hands-on experience in radio broadcasting, digital content creation, and multimedia storytelling. In addition to radio, I actively create educational and cultural content on my page Dastan-e-Hindustan, where I curate informative posts, research-based reels, and interactive carousels to make history and Indian heritage more accessible to young audiences. I have also worked on a group non-verbal short film, exploring visual storytelling beyond the limits of words. With a strong interest in visual media, I also pursue photography, capturing moments that tell stories of people, places, and emotion. Fluent in English and Hindi, and currently learning French, I bring a global outlook, strong communication skills, and a commitment to authentic storytelling. I am eager to grow in the fields of journalism, digital media, and creative communication, contributing fresh ideas, meaningful narratives, and engaging content to dynamic media platforms.
