SUMMARY

I am a commerce student who believes education and awareness can change lives. I'm inspired by CRY's mission to ensure every child has the right to a better future. I want to be part of this journey. I want to learn from real community work and understand how social development, especially in child rights and education, happens. More than just gaining experience, I hope to use my skills in communication, leadership, coordination, and teamwork to support children and families. This opportunity would help me grow as a responsible, caring, and socially aware person while making a positive contribution to society.
