SUMMARY

Empathetic and Passionate Criminology and Criminal Justice student with a keen interest in child rights, human rights, mental health awareness, and restorative justice. My academic journey has equipped me with strong research skills and a desire to explore the complexities of legal systems affecting vulnerable populations. I have honed my communication abilities through tutoring experiences, effectively conveying complex concepts to younger students. I also have a strong interest in learning new languages to enhance my cultural awareness. Eager to apply my academic knowledge and values in a practical setting, contributing to meaningful reforms in the field.
