

VIDHI CHOUDHURY

SUMMARY

I am a motivated second-year Psychology (Honours) student with active involvement in the Psychology Society, Student Grievance Redressal Cell, and Rotaract Committee. I am passionate about exploring the social aspects of psychology and applying my academic learning to real-world contexts. I am also the published author of Shards of Dusk, which reflects my creativity, commitment, and ability to communicate complex ideas. I am dedicated to supporting individuals with mental health challenges while further building my skills in research, collaboration, and community engagement
