- Youth Engagement: Supported young individuals in managing daily life stressors, substance use concerns, and family-related challenges, using psychoeducation and supportive dialogue.
- Women & Trauma Work: Conducted mental health sessions with women experiencing domestic violence, focusing on dissociation, trauma awareness, and strategies for emotional recovery.

Skills

- Research & Analysis: Literature review, survey design, data interpretation, Microsoft Excel.
- Communication & Counseling: Skilled in translating psychology into practical, usable strategies.
- Writing & Documentation: Structured reports, case studies, and presentation of findings.

Interests

I am particularly interested in applying psychology within the field of community-based mental health, where research and practice can directly support awareness, resilience, and empowerment. My academic and fieldwork experiences have shown how counseling, psychoeducation, and creative methods such as storytelling and reflective practices can make psychological concepts more accessible and impactful. Working in mental health excites me because it enables the integration of evidence-based psychology into community initiatives, fostering wellbeing, reducing stigma, and creating sustainable change for diverse populations.
