

SARMITA CHANDRA

BA LLB (PURSUING)

PROFILE

I'm Sarmita Chandra, a first-year B.A. LL.B. student at Symbiosis Law School, Hyderabad. I am deeply interested in social work, community development, and public interest advocacy. My background in law complements my passion for contributing to initiatives that promote justice, equality, and social welfare.

I have also participated in several Model United Nations conferences, which have strengthened my research and drafting abilities, enhanced my understanding of global and social issues, and improved my communication and consensus-building skills. These experiences have nurtured my commitment to creating meaningful social impact and working collaboratively toward sustainable community solutions.
