Student

PROFILE

As a law student at NLU Meghalaya, I've had the opportunity to get a first-person perspective of the marginalised communities existing in the state.

Recognizing the fact that many people in our society remain unaware about their legal rights, I feel a strong duty, given my educational privilege, to empower others through knowledge. My interest lies in working around institutions with similar areas through different mechanisms that drive towards achieving the fundamental principles of our constitution in different ways. I am looking to work with NGOs, research institutions to gain legal knowledge and contribute towards a better society.
