Summary

Hi! I'm Snehal Sarkar, an aspiring graphic and fashion designer currently in 10th grade. I specialize in visual storytelling, digital illustration, and concept design. My long-term goal is to pursue a Master's degree at NYU or Parsons School of Design.

I'm the founder and editor of CTeenRL, a magazine for the underprivileged children . I also work as a creative designer for nonprofits like The Refugee Cry and AP

I'm B1 certified in German and fluent in Bengali, Hindi, and English—bringing a multilingual lens to my design work. I'm currently seeking internships in graphic design, animation, digital art, or fashion to expand my skills and collaborate with inspiring creatives. Open to both virtual and in-person opportunities.
