

CHILD RIGHTS

PPT by Harshit Nayan

who is a child and what are child rights?

Who is a Child?

- As per the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC), a child is any human being below the age of 18 years.

What are Child Rights?

- Rights specifically meant for every individual below 18.
- Ensures safety, growth, development, and dignity.

In India:

- The Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection) Act, 2015 and other laws provide the legal framework for protecting child rights.
- Organizations like CRY and UNICEF work to promote and protect child rights in India.
- The National Commission for Protection of Child Rights (NCPCR) is a statutory body established to oversee the implementation of child rights laws.
- The Indian Constitution also guarantees various rights to children, including the right to life, liberty, and education

Child Marriage

What is Child Marriage?

- Marriage where either bride is below 18 or groom is below 21.
- Prohibited under Prohibition of Child Marriage Act, 2006.

Issues Caused:

- Affects education, health, and childhood.
- Increases maternal and infant mortality.
- Emotional and psychological impact
- economic dependence
- Legal penalties for facilitating such marriages.

Current Scenario:

- India has seen a decline, but rural areas still report cases.
- Government initiatives: Beti Bachao Beti Padhao, awareness drives etc. The Bal Vivah Mukt Bharat initiative aims to eliminate child marriage by 2030

children's right to participation

What is it?

- Right for children to freely express views and be heard in matters affecting them.

Importance:

- Encourages confidence, leadership, and awareness.
- Involves children in school councils, community projects, and decision-making forums.

Legal Backing:

- Recognized by Article 12 of UNCRC.
- Child-friendly procedures in legal and social institutions.

right to education

What is RTE?

- Right of every child (6-14 years) to free and compulsory education.
- Enshrined under Article 21A of the Indian Constitution.
- Governed by the RTE Act, 2009.

Key Provisions:

- No child to pay fees, capitation fees, or donations.
- Prohibits physical punishment and mental harassment.
- Ensures qualified teachers and proper infrastructure.

Why is it Important?

- Empowers children for a better future.
- Reduces child labor and early marriages.
- Helps bridge socio-economic gaps.

Challenges:

- School dropouts, especially girls.
- Quality of education varies in urban-rural regions.

Initiatives:

- Mid-Day Meal Scheme
- Digital India Education programs

Integrated child development services

What is it?

- Launched on 2nd October 1975 in two projects namely Dharani (Amravati) and Dharavi (Mumbai) with a view to improving the nutritional status of children and reducing child mortality and malnutrition.

Services that provided under umbrella ICDS Scheme

- Supplementary Nutrition
- Pre-school Education
- Nutrition & health education
- Immunisation
- Health check-up and
- Referral services

Integrated child development services

Objectives

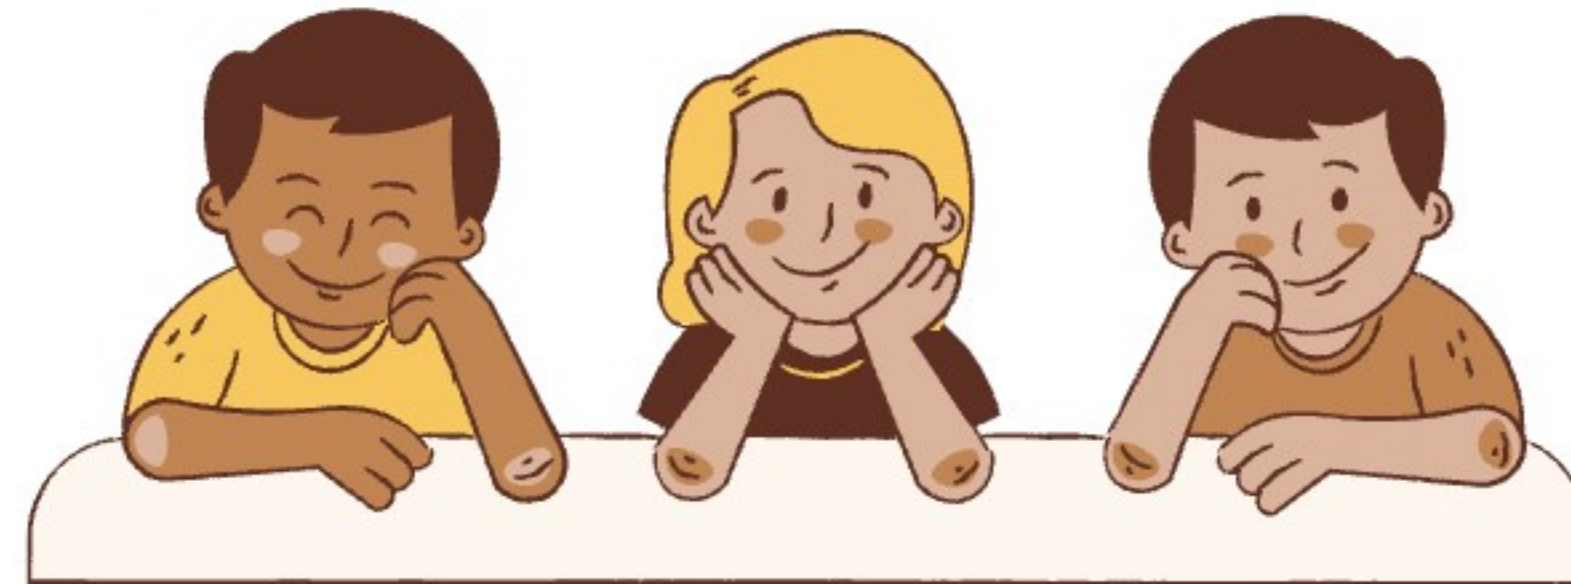

- To improve the nutritional and health status of children in the age group 0-6 years.
- To lay the foundation for proper psychological, physical and social development of the child.
- To reduce the incidence of mortality, morbidity, malnutrition and school dropout.
- To achieve effective co-ordination of policy and implementation amongst the various departments to promote child development.

child labour

What is it?

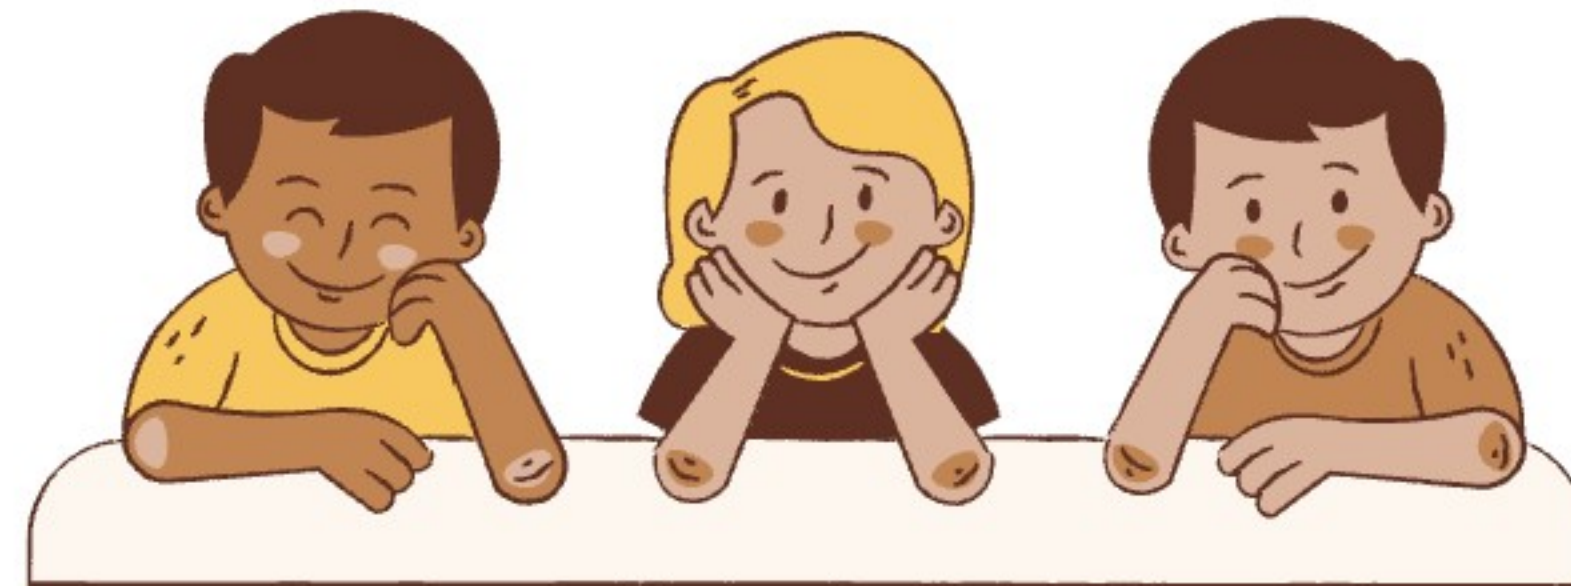

- Child labour is the exploitation of children through any form of work that interferes with their ability to attend regular school or is mentally, physically, socially and morally harmful.
- Such exploitation is prohibited by legislation worldwide.
- Child labour has existed to varying extents throughout the world wide .
- The children mainly worked in agriculture, home-based assembly operations, factories, mining, and services.

child labour

In India

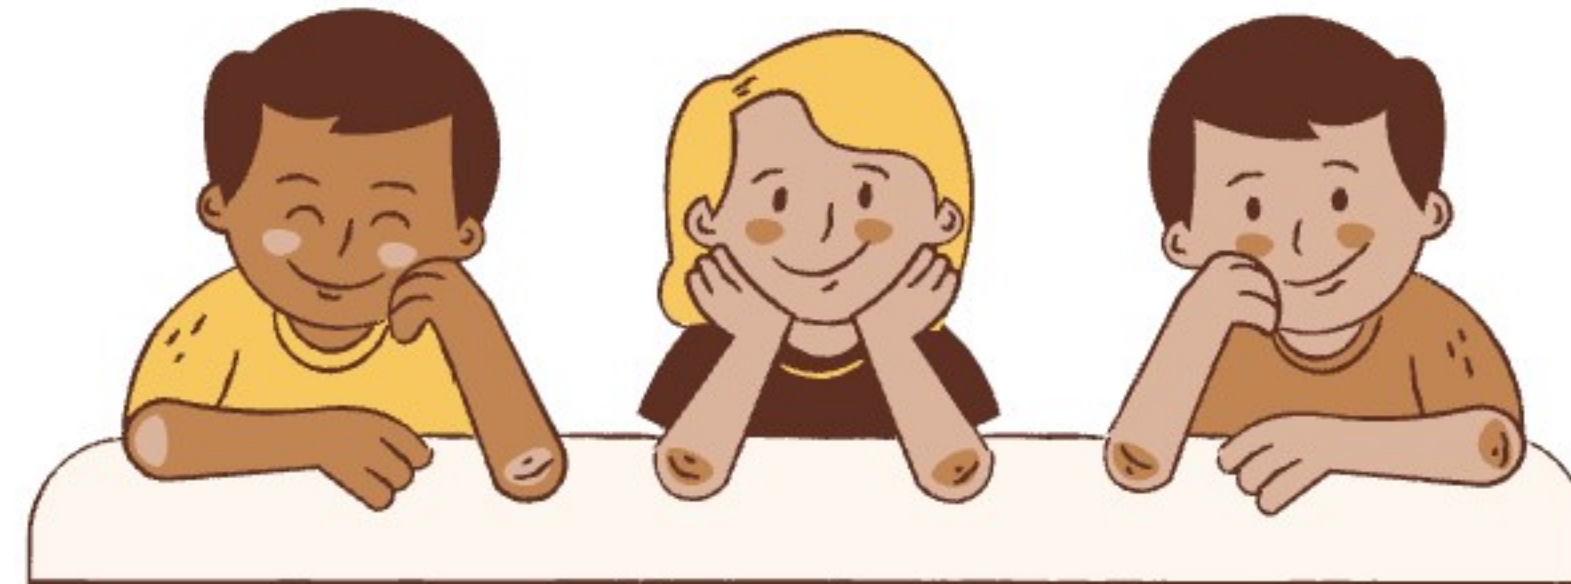

- In 2011, the national census of India found that the total number of child labourers, aged [5–14], to be at 10.12 million, out of the total of 259.64 million children in that age group.
- according to a Campaign Against Child Labour study, India has approximately 12,666,377 child labourers total.
- Uttar Pradesh, a state in northern India, has 19,27,997 child labourers.
- Delhi, the capital of India, has over 1 million child labourers. Other leading states with similar figures include Bihar, Rajasthan, Maharashtra, Madhya Pradesh and Uttar Pradesh.

juvenile justice system

What is it?

- It is a framework designed to handle legal cases involving children accused of crimes, with a focus on rehabilitation and the child's best interests.
- It operates under the Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children) Act, 2015.
- This system emphasizes rehabilitation and transformation over punishment, aiming to help young offenders become productive members of society.

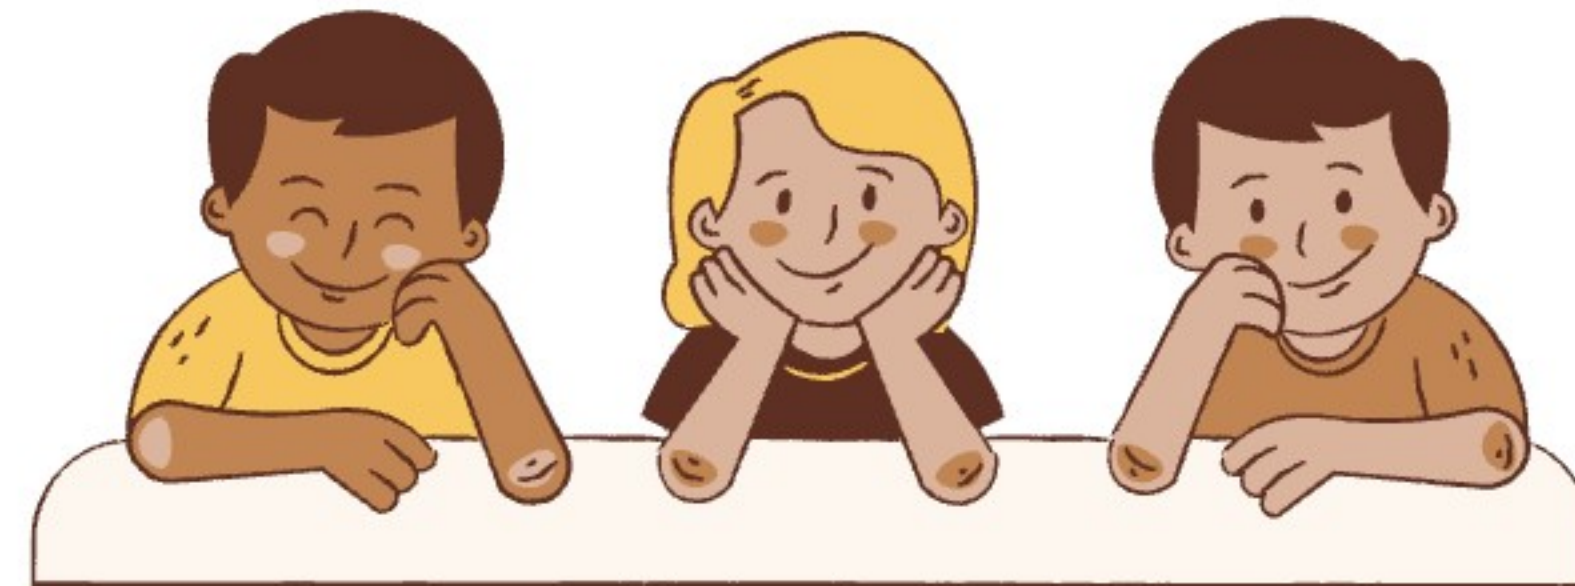

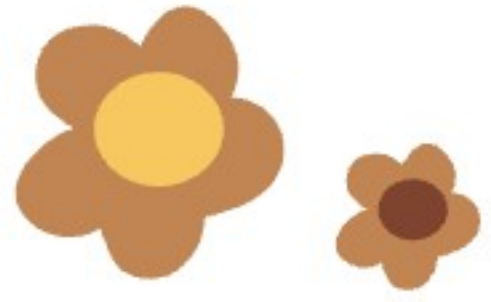

juvenile justice system

Current Legal Framework

- Governed by Juvenile Justice Act, last amended in 2015 defines a juvenile as anyone under 18 years old.
- Establishes Juvenile Welfare Boards and Juvenile Courts.
- Creates special homes for rehabilitation and shelter homes for protection.
- Emphasises rehabilitation over punishment.
- Allows trying 16-18 year olds as adults for heinous crimes, after assessment.
- Includes provisions for adoption, foster care, and protection of rights.

Thank You!

