- About the family – she belongs to a poor family. When she was small her father died. Her mother used to work as a labourer and look after she tried her best to get her proper education.

- Problems – Due to death of her father their income state becomes complicated and she had to face many challenges during her education. Her mother tried to get her married because she had no hope. She wants her daughter to get married no matter what. She was not able to take the whole responsibility of the family. She had no left farms also. By doing labour work she look after her. As she was a girl her mother was worried so she thought about child marriage.

- project intervention (Role of deep organization) – child marriage was a criminal offense. And gayatri wanted to study so the organization members told her mother about deep organization which provides free education. This organization is only for the needed girls.

- overall impact of the project- Her mother agrees for her education and she was so happy that her daughter will also get education like other girls. And her marriage got cancelled.

She walked on her desired path to pursue her dreams. The project team was sure she will grow up and rise more in her life. Gauri's story is a hope in a state where poverty and lack of education barriers are present but her determination to continue her studies is an inspiration to others. With the support of the organization gauri can now achieve her goals and create a better future for her mother and for herself.
