ABOUT THE ORGANISATION:

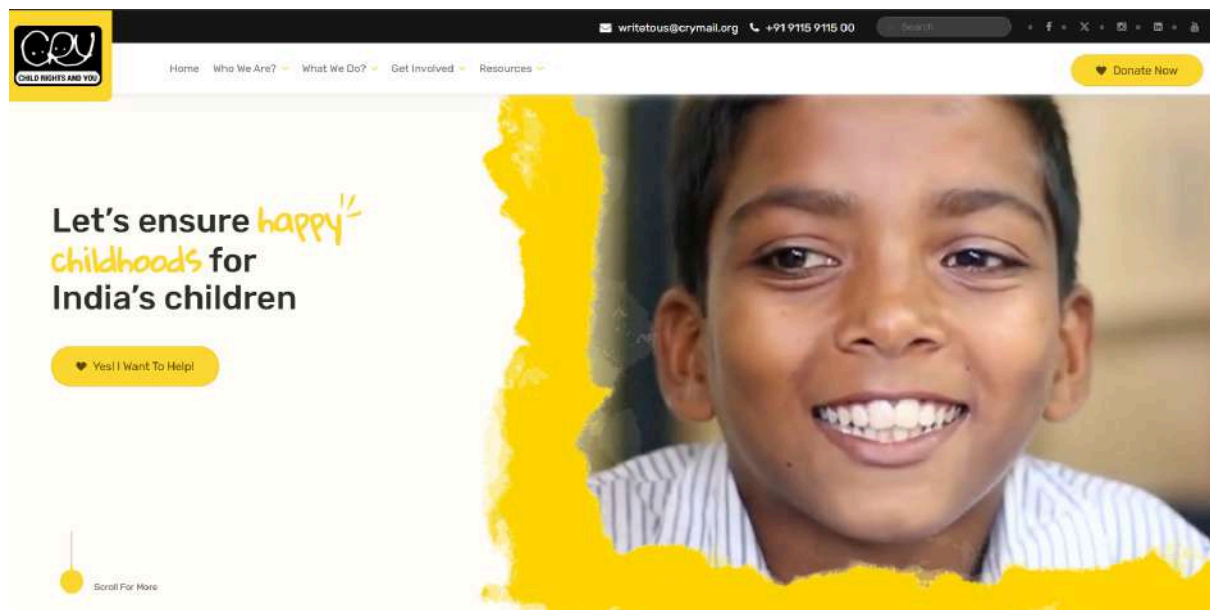

Child Rights and You (CRY) is a leading Indian non-governmental organization founded in 1979 by Rippan Kapur with the vision of ensuring a happy, healthy, and secure childhood for every child. Headquartered in Mumbai, CRY works across 20 states in India, partnering with grassroots organizations to uphold and protect children's rights to survival, development, protection, and participation. Its core focus areas include education, health and nutrition, protection from abuse and exploitation, and enabling children to voice their opinions. Over the decades, CRY has positively impacted over 4.7 million children through its rights-based approach, community-driven programs, and strong advocacy efforts. The organization is currently led by CEO Puja Marwaha and continues to be a catalyst for sustainable change in the lives of underprivileged children.

VISION OF CRY:

CRY (Child Rights and You) envisions a world where every child's rights are protected and honored, allowing them to live with dignity, in a society that offers equal opportunities for growth and development.

MISSION OF CRY:

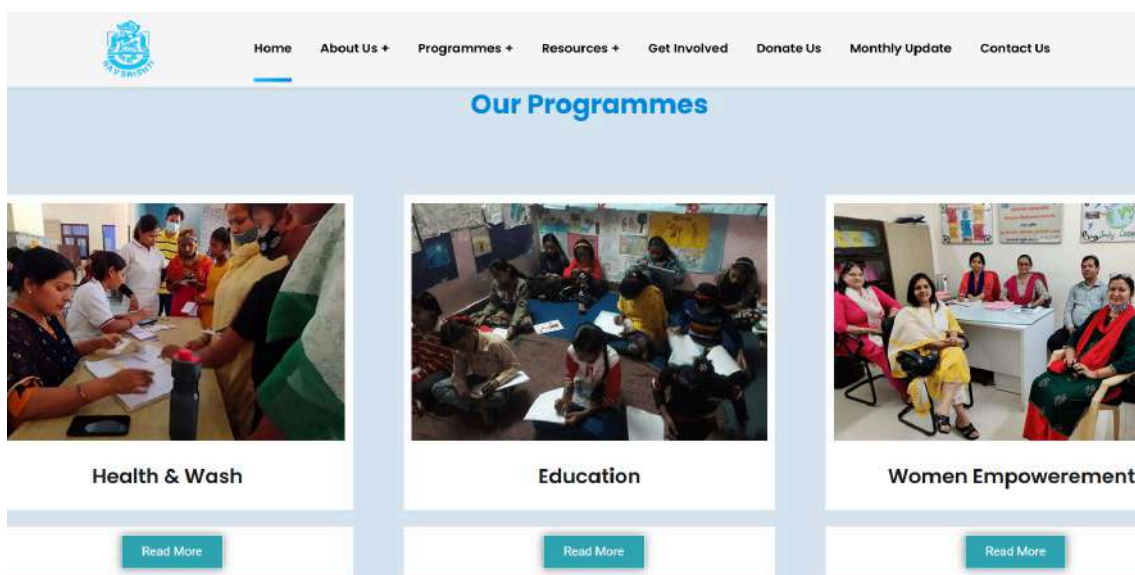

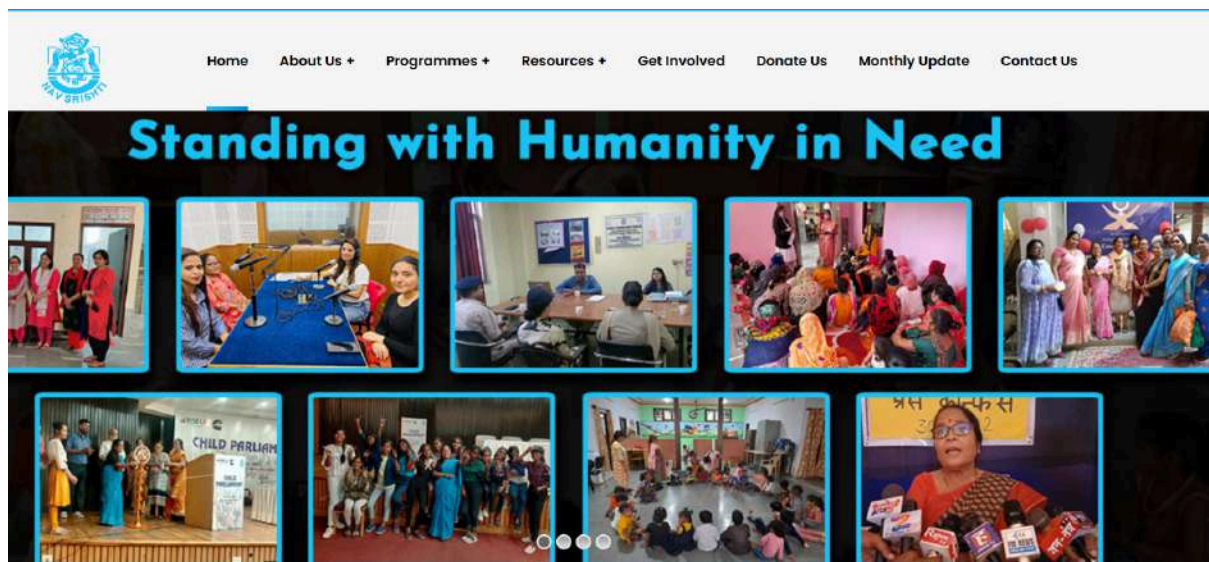

CRY's mission is to enable individuals and communities to take responsibility for underprivileged children, mobilize collective potential, and inspire sustainable action that ensures long-term change in the lives of children. It addresses the root causes of child rights violations by collaborating with grassroots partners and influencing policy.

INTRODUCTION:

As a management student with a deep commitment to social equity, sustainable development, and strategic impact, I resonate strongly with CRY's mission and its community-first approach. I believe that management is not only a tool for business success but also a powerful medium for driving meaningful social change and CRY exemplifies this philosophy through its structured, impact-oriented work in the child rights space.

In Week 2 of my internship, I continued community work at Nav Srishti, located in Neb Sarai, Delhi, which receives support and funding from CRY. This grassroots organization works actively on education, healthcare, and awareness for underprivileged children and women. My work involved on-field community service that includes assisting in educational and community engagement sessions, interacting with children and their families, and understanding their ground realities along with organising and assisting various camps for them. This experience is helping me connect theory with practice i.e applying people management, planning, and communication skills in a real-world setting.

DAY 1 - 20 MAY 2025 (Social Media Handling and working on official documents of NGO)

Digital Inclusion and Support for Disability Access:

Assisted in the application process for the Unique Disability ID (UDID) for a child with hearing and speech impairment by navigating the official government portal. This involved understanding the documentation requirements and ensuring all necessary details were accurately submitted. In order to ensure future access to digital resources and communication, a Gmail account was created for the child's father, helping bridge the digital divide for the family.

Documentation of Success Story – Creche Programme:

As part of a documentation project, a success story was developed for a child Roohi enrolled in the Creche Programme of the NGO. The process involved conducting interviews with caretakers and staff members to gather insights into the child's development, challenges, and progress over years. This helped highlight the positive impact of early childhood care and support interventions provided by the organization.

Summer Camp Programme – Interactive Teaching Sessions:

Engagement continued with the summer camp programme, where educational sessions were conducted using fun and interactive methods. Activities were designed to integrate creative learning tools, including art, games, storytelling, and music, ensuring continued learning in an enjoyable and stress-free environment for the children of age groups 5-15 years.

Field Visit – Understanding Ground Realities (Roohi's Case):

A field visit was conducted to Roohi's home to assess living conditions and gain insight into why some parents hesitate or fail to send their children to creches. Roohi's mother, a single parent, expressed her financial inability to afford private facilities. The visit highlighted the crucial role of free creche services like those offered by Nav Srishti, which serve as safe, educational spaces for children of working mothers from underserved communities.

DAY 2 - 21 MAY 2025 (Community Impact and Creativity Day at Nav Srishti)

Success Story – Rajiv (Creche Program):

A case study was developed on Rajiv, a child who joined the Creche Programme at the age of 1.5 years. Within a few months, Rajiv transformed into a confident, expressive two-year-old, actively participating in group activities. His progress demonstrates the importance of early childhood care, structured learning, and emotional support provided at Nav Srishti's creche facility.

Interactive Learning and Engagement Activities:

Several interactive sessions were organized to keep children aged 5–10 years engaged through joyful learning. Activities included:

- Dance and recreational sessions that encouraged free expression and movement.
- Vegetable painting, which helped children explore colors and patterns creatively using natural objects.
- Continuation of fun learning modules as part of the ongoing summer camp programme, combining storytelling, music, basic academic exercises, and games.

Gender Awareness and Community Dialogue – Umeed Group:

Participation in the monthly Umeed group meeting, which brings together adolescent girls from the community, provided an opportunity to listen to their challenges related to education, family responsibilities, and gender roles. Counselors and mentors from Nav Srishti guided the discussions with practical solutions and motivational insights, encouraging the girls to voice their concerns and find support within the group.

Debate Session – Critical Thinking and Confidence Building:

A debate session was facilitated for the Umeed girls on the topic "Is cooking necessary to learn, especially for girls?" The platform allowed participants to express their viewpoints freely. The session concluded with a balanced perspective presented by the moderators, emphasizing gender equality, life skills, and choice-based learning.

LEARNING AND KEY TAKEAWAYS: Second Week of NGO Internship (CRY x Nav Srishti)

1. Leadership Through Engagement

- Leading storytelling, poem recitation, and dance sessions enhanced leadership and facilitation skills.

2. Operational Management and Documentation

- Participating in the organization and lamination of NGO records and registers offered practical exposure to documentation, record management, and operational systems of an organisation.

3. Social Sensitivity and Community Insight

- Assisting in building the Family Counseling database and reviewing sensitive cases (e.g., domestic violence, eve-teasing) fostered a deeper understanding of social issues, and how management can be used as a tool for community empowerment and social intervention.
- Developed empathy and problem-solving ability by observing how the NGO addresses complex family and community dynamics with help of counsellors.

4. Value of Experiential Learning

- Activities like paper folding craft, games, yoga, and fun sessions revealed how non-traditional, experience-based learning plays a role in holistic development, especially in low-resource settings and realized how event planning, content creation, and structured play can be part of impactful management strategies.

5. Communication, Teamwork, and Content Development

- Improved communication skills by coordinating with staff, children, and mentors while also contributing to social media content and promotional material for the NGO.
- Gained hands-on experience in digital branding, visual content planning, and aligning it with the NGO's mission—key marketing and outreach skills for a management role.

CHALLENGES AND RESPONSE MECHANISMS:

1. Incomplete or Unstructured Information for success stories documentation

- Problem: While collecting inputs for success stories caretakers and responders often provided emotionally generalized details rather than structured or measurable improvements.
- Resolution: Followed up with specific probing questions like “What skills has the child developed in the last 6 months?”, “Can you share a recent example of progress?”, and supplemented this by observing the child directly during sessions to enrich the story with authentic, observable milestones.

2. Language Barriers During Interaction

- Problem: Some children and parents primarily spoke local dialects making it difficult to convey instructions or extract responses smoothly, especially during field visits.
- Resolution: Simplified communication by using basic Hindi words, visual cues and hand gestures.

3. Limited Availability of Creative Resources (Funday Friday Activities)

- Problem: Faced shortage of materials like origami paper, paints, brushes, and markers during planned creative sessions as students could not bring them due to lack of availability.
- Resolution: Arranged them on our own or took help from NGO and adapted quickly by using waste paper and recycled materials for art activities and simplified origami using regular notebook sheets. Encouraged creativity through available materials, turning it into a lesson on resourcefulness for the children.

“This experience enhanced adaptability, creativity, time management, and ethical handling of real-world field situations.”
